Dear John,

Would you be good enough to refer to your letter of 2.12.44 relating to De GRAAF. LINDEMANS was questioned regarding the message to which you refer. He states that Kaas BEVERDINK is in fact Kaas von BEVERDINK who is identical with De GRAAF. LINDEMANS himself composed the message. He knew from Dr. German that all the dropping grounds in Holland were known to the Germans and the W/T operators in Holland had been blown and were working under German control. Questioned about the message LINDEMANS was certain that REINIERS had transmitted it. He states that REINIERS promised to do so and later told LINDEMANS that he had sent it.

Herewith the final Camp 020 report on LINDEMANS. Would you be good enough to card only those names and addresses already carded in the earlier reports and the names and addresses appearing in that part of the report which has been marked in the margin.

I attach herewith a photograph of LINDEMANS and a man and woman which was handed to me by Mr. Pinto of the Dutch Surete. Mr. Pinto told me that the woman of whom he had no particulars whatsoever was a German agent. The photograph was shown to LINDEMANS who identified it immediately as that of the woman <sup>SECRET</sup> referred to in this report. Would you be good enough to file the photograph in LINDEMANS' file, and card JOHNNY on this note which should be filed accordingly.

Miss Chenhall has a recollection of a woman called JOHNNY who appeared in another case from the Field fairly recently. I do not know whether she could be readily identified. If so I would be grateful if you could let me know.

With reference to S.I.B. (Mr. Starn's) memorandum of 4.12.44, enclosing letter from Major DeLafosse of 2.12.44 (JD/KV/2259), LINDSIANS has been interrogated on the points raised with the following results:-

1. Mess BEVANDER should read Hans von WERDINGS, who is identical with LE GRAP.
2. LINDSIANS composed the message himself. As he was working for the Germans as well as the Resistance movement, he knew from Dr. GERMAN that all the dropping grounds in Holland were known to the Germans and the W/T operators (also in Holland) had been blown and were working under German control.
3. When questioned about this message, LINDSIANS was quite certain that REINIERS had transmitted it, stating that the latter had promised to do so and told LINDSIANS later that he had sent it.

I return herewith original letter forwarded under your memo of 4.12.44, and one copy as requested.

War Room - Mr. Noble

I would be glad if you could arrange for a signal to be made to 21st Army Group informing them that the following Category A prisoner and escorts will be leaving Northolt Airport for B.56 at 09.30 hours on 7th December, 1944.

Prisoner: LINDEMANS

Escorts: Sgt. F. Beard
Cpl. C. McClune.

The escorting B.C.Os should return to the U.K. on the first available plane after handing over the prisoner, but it may not be possible for them to leave the same day on which they arrive. Would you therefore, in addition to the foregoing, ask 21st Army Group to find billets for these two B.C.Os if necessary.

One of our people in the field has informed me that he was talking recently to HENIERS the head of the A.S. at Antwerp about KING KONG, and he had mentioned that KING KONG had approached him at the beginning of May '44 with a request to send to London for the "Dutch Service" a message for Kaas BEVERDINK beginning with the code phrase, (Flemish or Dutch): "Chat dans la cuisine".

This message which was not sent said that all dropping grounds and W/T Operators were blown, and no more receptions could be arranged.

The above is not very clear, but I should be glad if you could clear up the following points by enquiring from KING KONG :-

- (1) Who was Kaas BEVERDINK. Did this refer to DE GRAAF as his first name is also Kaas?
- (2) Where did KING KONG get this message from?
- (3) Did KING KONG get the message through by any other means?

Broad-shouldered. Pallid complexion with pimples on forehead. Talks slowly, often with hands behind back; absent-minded air. Usually wears black suit, black tie and black felt hat, with white shirt.

WIM:

Brown hair, brushed back without parting, thinning over temples. Wears glasses with thick lenses (very short sighted). Hollow-cheeked. Front teeth large and prominent, and stained yellow through smoking. Fingers unusually long for a man, and very stained with nicotine. Loud voice. Heavy cigarette-smoker.

PROGENSEL:

One wooden arm and hand (probably the right).

WOLFGANG O. JANKER:

Age: about 33. Height: 1.65 m. Hair: brown or dark blond, brushed back with parting. Eyes: blue. Face: hollow-chinched. Teeth: bad, some missing. Hands: normally wears several rings set with brilliants. Clothes: good. Voice: speaks in nervous jerks. Peculiarities: wears a gold wrist-watch and several rings. Does not smoke.

JAN:

Age: about 34. Build: broad-shouldered. Height: 1.65 m. Hair: dark brown or black. Eyes: brown. Complexion: brown. Teeth: good, very white. Dark moustache. Voice: quiet. Peculiarities: walks quickly.

Lieutenant PAUL:

Surname REITERMANN. Face: thin. Hands: slightly burnt by explosive. Peculiarities: twists his mouth to one side when speaking.

Narvel CARLKE:

Hair: dark, curly. Face: thin. Small black moustache.

GEORGE:

Build: broad-shoulders and narrow hips. Hair: dark blond or brown, rather thin in front. Glasses sometimes worn for disguise. Face: long. Had small fair moustache, but LEWISONS was told (by one GLICHY) he sometimes removed it. Clothes: usually grey; sometimes wears beret.

VICTOR:

The VICTOR who worked with GEORGE is VICTOR STAESE. The man known simply as VICTOR worked in conjunction with Carlos ESPINOSA, and was only concerned with the issue of false identity documents which LEWISONS stamped. A third VICTOR figuring in the case is Victor MARSHET, a member of Resistance, who went with LINDBERG to Gills in September 1964, and lives at Hattel near Kilsen.

Additional descriptive points relating to VICTOR STAVIN are as follows:- Height: wears a gold ring with a dark bluish-grey stone engraved with a cross over three bars. Clothes: very well dressed. Voice: well-educated. Peculiarities: when smoking, removes the cigarette from his mouth with a slow sideways sweep with the wrist hand, fingers straight. Drinks rather heavily, chiefly gin. Language: speaks incorrect French.

Dear John,

Christian LINDEMAN.

Would you be good enough to refer to your letter of 13.11.44. regarding this case. We think that in paragraph (d) of the note attached to your letter there is a confusion between SCHARRER, who was working in connection with the escape route from Holland through Paris, and Anton Bernard SCHRADER who arrived here in October, 1943. The two men were members of, or in contact with, C. S. VI, but otherwise are unconnected.

I am only pointing this out in order to avoid confusion in the future.

Yours sincerely,

M.J.

Major.

Dear John,

PROSPER DE ZITTER. 118b

Thank you for your letter of 27.11.44. regarding you that Captain JACKSON is almost certainly identical with PROSPER DE ZITTER and had come to the same conclusion for the reason which you give. We entirely agree with

Yours sincerely,

Following the receipt of the yellow peril of 23.11.44. suggesting that Victor LIVANE was identical with Victor SWANE described by LINDEMANS, I rang up Camp 020 and spoke to Captain Bagge. I asked him whether LIVANE, as written in DEBRAY's note-book, could be SWANE, at the same time pointing out to Captain Bagge that I understood DEBRAY's handwriting was very bad and that there were a number of bad mis-spellings or mis-readings of names which we had received from Camp 020. Captain Bagge was insistent that the man that DEBRAY knew was known to him as LIVANE and he was reluctant to look at the note-book again. I asked him whether the notes were typed or written and he said he was not sure. I did prevail upon him to look at the note-book and he rang me back this morning and told me that the name as written certainly could be, and he thought it was, SWANE.

LINDEMANS

Will you please refer to B.I.B (Mr. Stamp's) memorandum of 29.11.44, with reference to characters in this case who may be identical with S.O.S. agents.

LINDEMANS was shown the photographs of LETUCE and AGAZARIAN @ CHAZIER @ MARCEL with the attached results.

LINDEMANS was also asked to give further descriptive details of the characters mentioned in Mr. Stamp's memorandum. Major Stone telephoned Mr. Stamp about these this afternoon and will be sending a summary shortly.

The photograph of LETUCE was returned to you today under the heading of ROY/LETUCE.

LINDEMANS

N

With reference to B.I.E (Mr. Stamp's) memorandum FP. 600,513/SBS of 29.11.44, a photograph of the S.O.E. agent LEMTUCE forwarded therewith was shown to LINDEMANS, who stated that it was most certainly not that of the ROMLOE known to him, who was at least ten years younger than the subject of this photograph.

Shown a photograph of AGAZARIAN @ GLAZIER @ MARCEL, LINDEMANS failed to identify it, though he said he thought he had seen the man somewhere. MARCEL, whose surname is CARLWYN, was quite a different type, with many gold teeth and a flattish, African nose.

The negative result of the showing of these photographs to LINDEMANS was telephoned to Mr. Stamp this morning.
